Application for SW Developer

Dear Mr./Ms.,

About Me

My name is Ondrej Blazek and I am currently studying Communications and Informatics at the University of Technology Faculty of Electrical Engineering and Communication here in Brno. I am an openminded person with a huge interest in linux/unix systems and SW/Web development. Currently I am finishing the last year of my Master's programme so I have just started working on my Master thesis, making a software in a C language for DoS attacks. I have also spent one semester in Graz, Austria where I was doing a few projects focusing on cryptography and web technologies.

Why AT&T?

I have always wanted to work for an international company where I could be part of something big, something perspective and of course AT&T is a one of them. Your company has a great reputation for being open to new ideas, to be innovative and is known among many people I personally know. Opportunities come with challenges, and this could be a really good challenge for me to develop my skills and to get the experiences I need to have to be a good developer.

Why Me?

I think I have a really good background for this course and I honestly think that this would be a perfect place for me where I would finally prove that what I have learned was not for nothing.

Faithfully,

Bc. Ondřej Blažek
